

SHANE CROWDER

Shane Crowder (SHS Class of 2000). Champion. Shane is one of the greatest athletes in Sisters High School history. Shane was a member of the 1998 and 1999 back-to-back SHS state championship football dynasty, playing wide receiver and defensive back. He was second team All-State as a junior at both positions, and was first team All-State at both positions as a senior. Shane still holds the Outlaw record for receptions in a season. The lethal connection between quarterback Dusty Macauley and Shane Crowder is an all-time best. Shane also played basketball at SHS and was part of a school and district record, and State championship, 4 x 100-meter relay team on the track. As special as Shane was on the football field, the basketball court, and track, he was even more amazing on the baseball diamond. While at SHS, Shane was All-District, and then played two seasons at Mt. Hood Community College before becoming a standout player at Division One University of Illinois, Chicago. During his tenure with the UIC Flames, Shane was a 2005 2nd team All-League outfielder. In 2005, Shane ranked 10th all-time in triples, while also having a batting average of .338 with 7 home runs, 14 doubles, 36 RBI, and 45 runs scored. The Flames appeared in the 2005 NCAA Regionals, with Shane being recognized as part of the 2005 NCAA Regional All-Tourney team. Defensively, Shane was almost perfect during the 2005 season, recording only one error the entire season. Shane also excelled in the classroom, being named to the College Baseball Foundation National Honor Roll.
