

JEFF BARTON AND SCOTT BARTON

Jeff Barton (Coach/Teacher) and Scott Barton (SHS Class of 2006). Father and Son Golf Legends. The Bartons were a golfing force during the SHS golf program's most successful period. Jeff was one of the original staff members of Sisters High School in 1992 when SHS opened after a 25-year wait. In addition to his teaching duties, Jeff coached the boys' golf team from 1992 through 2011, a period during which the team won multiple league titles and two state championships. The team had a particularly magical run from 2000 through 2008, winning two state championships (2001, 2003) finishing second three times (2000, 2002, 2004), and third once (2008).

Scott Barton was one of Oregon's top amateur golfers. Scott was on teams that won one state championship (2003) and finished second in 2004, Individually, Scott finished third at state in 2004 and tied for second in 2006. In 2004, the SHS team set a low score of 291 for eighteen holes for a 3A State Tournament Record, which still stands to this day. Scott regularly earned medalist honors throughout his high school play. In 2005 he averaged 71.2 in ten league matches (under par six times), and was tournament medalist in eight of ten other matches, including the CO Classic. Scott was a Mr. SHS nominee, a member of the Americana Project, and a Wendy's High School Heisman National Nominee. He earned a golf scholarship to Oregon State University and qualified for the 2005 United States Junior Amateur Championship.

The Bartons, a dynamic father and son duo, have left an indelible mark on Sisters High School and its golf program.
